Anti-Radicalisation Policy

Date of Review	August 2023

Policy Statement

The Regis Academy is fully committed to safeguarding and actively promoting the welfare of all its pupils. As a school we recognise that safeguarding against radicalisation is no different to safeguarding against any other vulnerability. The anti-radicalisation policy sets out our beliefs, strategies and procedures to protect vulnerable individuals from being radicalised or exposed to extremism, by identifying who they are and providing them with support.

Links to other policies

The Regis Academy anti-radicalisation policy links to the following policies:

- Child Protection and Safeguarding
- Behaviour policy and Anti Bullying policy
- Online safety policy
- SMSC and British Values policy

Aims and Principals

The Regis Academy anti-radicalisation policy is intended to provide a framework for dealing with issues relating to vulnerability, radicalisation and exposure to extreme views. It clearly sets out how the school will deal with such incidents and identifies how the curriculum and ethos underpins our actions.

The objectives are that:

- All governors, teachers, teaching assistants and non-teaching staff will have an understanding of what radicalisation is and why we need to be vigilant in school.
- All governors, teachers, teaching assistants and non-teaching staff will know what the school policy is on anti-radicalisation and will follow the policy when issues arise.
- All parents and pupils will know that the school has policies in place to keep pupils safe from harm and that the school regularly reviews its systems to ensure they are appropriate and effective.

The main aims of this policy are to ensure that staff are fully engaged in being vigilant about radicalisation; that they overcome professional disbelief that such issues will not happen here and ensure that we work alongside other professional bodies and agencies to ensure that our pupils are safe from harm. Staff will be given training to comprehend exactly what is meant by harm and given a comprehensive action plan to follow in the case of any incident. This action plan will follow our safeguarding procedures.

Definitions and indicators

Radicalisation is defined as the act or process of making a person more radical or favouring of extreme or fundamental changes in political, economic or social conditions, institutions or habits of the mind.

Extremism is defined as the holding of extreme political or religious views.

There are a number of behaviours which may indicate a child is at risk of being radicalised or exposed to extreme views. These include:

- Spending increasing time in the company of other suspected extremists.
- Changing their style of dress or personal appearance to accord with the group.
- Changes to their usual behaviour.
- Their day-to-day behaviour becoming increasingly centred on an extremist ideology, group or cause.
- Loss of interest in other friends and activities not associated with the extremist ideology, group or cause.
- Possession of materials or symbols associated with an extremist cause.
- Attempts to recruit others to the group/cause.
- Communications with others that suggests identification with a group, cause or ideology.
- Using insulting to derogatory names for another group.
- Increase in prejudice-related incidents committed by that person – these may include physical or verbal assault, provocative behaviour, damage to property, derogatory name calling, possession of prejudice related materials, prejudice related ridicule or name calling, inappropriate forms of address, refusal to co-operate, attempts to recruit to prejudice-related organisations, condoning or supporting violence towards others.
- Family network; disclosures regarding any family members or extended family holidays to locations.

Procedures for referrals

Although serious incidents involving radicalisation have not occurred at The Regis Academy to date, it is important for us to be constantly vigilant and remain fully informed about the issues which affect the city in which we teach. Staff are reminded to suspend any 'professional disbelief' that instances of radicalisation 'could not happen here' and to refer any concerns through the appropriate channels.

We believe that it is possible to intervene to protect people who are vulnerable. Early intervention is vital, and staff must be aware of the established processes for front line professionals to refer concerns about individuals and groups. Staff must be aware that there is a shared ownership and a duty of care to safeguard all of the children. Weekly child spot, during staff briefing, will ensure that any concerns are shared with staff, so as to ensure everyone is aware. We must have the confidence to challenge, the confidence to intervene and ensure that we have strong safeguarding practices.

The Head of Centre will deal swiftly with any referrals made by staff or with concerns reported by staff.

The Head of Centre and Pastoral Manager will discuss the most appropriate course of action on a case-by-case basis and will decide when a referral to external agencies is needed (see appendix 1 – Dealing with referrals)

Manager, Staff and Governors

The Head of Centre is responsible for referrals relating to radicalisation. In the event of her absence, concerns will be reported to The Pastoral Manager (DDSL).

Staff will be fully briefed about what to do if they are concerned about the possibility of radicalisation relating to a pupil, or if they need to discuss specific children whom they consider to be vulnerable to radicalisation.

The Head of Centre will work in conjunction with The Pastoral Manager, SLT and external agencies to decide the best course of action to address concerns.

Prejudicial behaviour can be a factor in radicalisation.

The role of the curriculum

Our curriculum promotes mutual respect, tolerance of others with different faiths and beliefs and diversity. Children are encouraged to share their views through individual liberty and democracy and recognise that they are entitled to have their own different beliefs which should not be used to influence others.

Our PSHE provision is embedded across the curriculum and underpins the ethos of the school. It is recognised that children with low aspirations are more vulnerable to radicalisation and therefore we strive to equip our pupils with confidence, self-belief, respect and tolerance as well as setting high standards and expectations for themselves. We complete the Boxall Profile, which enables us to recognise vulnerable children, children who aren't feeling completely happy in school, or children with low self-esteem or confidence. Upon analysing the results of profiles, we can place children into relevant, personalised nurture intervention groups, so as to address individual needs.

As outlined in our Online safety policy, children are regularly taught about how to stay safe when using the internet and are encouraged to recognise that people are not always who they say they are online. They are taught to seek adult help if they are upset or concerned about anything they read or see on the internet.

Staff training

Through INSET opportunities in school, we will ensure that our staff are fully aware of the threats, risks and vulnerabilities that are linked to radicalisation; are aware of the process of radicalisation and how this might be identified early on and are aware of how we can provide support as a school to ensure that our children are resilient and able to resist involvement in radical or extreme activities.

Use of premises

If an agreement is made to let the premises to people from outside of the staff, appropriate checks will be made before agreeing the contract. Usage will be monitored and in the event of any behaviours not in-keeping with the anti-radicalisation policy, the school will contact the police and terminate the contract.

Policy review

The Anti-radicalisation policy will be reviewed annually as part of the overall Child Protection and Safeguarding policy review.

We are aware of the potential indicating factors that a child is vulnerable to being radicalised or exposed to extreme views, including peer pressure, influence from other people or the internet, bullying, crime and anti- social behaviour, family tensions, race/hate crime, lack of self-esteem or identity, prejudicial behaviour and personal or political grievances

In the event of prejudicial behaviour:

- All incidents of prejudicial behaviour will be reported directly to the Head of Centre or DDSL using a school safeguarding form.
- All incidents will be fully investigated and recorded in My Concern

Parents are contacted and the incident discussed in detail, aiming to identify motivating factors, any changes in circumstances at home, parental views of the incident and to assess whether the incident is serious enough to warrant a further referral. A note of this meeting is kept alongside the initial referral.

- The Head of Centre follows-up any referrals for a period of four weeks after the incident to assess whether there is a change in behaviour and/or attitude. A further meeting with parents would be held if there is not a significant positive change in behaviour.
- If deemed necessary, serious incidents will be discussed and referred to Sandwell Prevent Team
